

The concept of using power lines to transmit data is ill conceived. The idea that this will not interfere with other services is unbelievable. Please do not approve