

I am very much against the use of the Nation's power grid as a method of distributing broadband internet to the public. I feel that it will cause harmful interference to the public airwaves. I have followed for many years, the FCC always saying that harmful interference would not be tolerated. Well don't start this and we won't have any.