

As a relatively new 'ham' (1st licenced in 1996), I believe that BPL will effectively put an end to my activities. Surely industry has other options whereas amateur radio operators do not. This will effectively put emergency communications out of business also; cell phones & computers do not always work, and you can't expect us to keep our equipment in working order if we cannot use it. Please do not approve ET 03-104.
