

Radio Frequency signals plus miles long antennas (electric utility wires) = INTERFERENCE! This will affect Amateur radio, nautical, aeronautical, military, and everyone else using the HF spectrum. I don't understand how the FCC can even begin to consider allowing such a huge source of interfering RF to be propagated in this manner.