

I have seen the video of the testing done by ARRL. The power companies have said that this service has been tested and that there have been no problems. There are and will be if this is allowed to go forward. As an amateur radio operator this would jepordize all of the High Frequency operating frequencies we have been allocated by the FCC.

PHIL BECKETT AB8ME