

I've seen some test results of the proposed BPL technology. This stuff will be devastating to Amateur Radio and to most other forms of communications. What will it do to the environment in general? Do not allow BPL to progress any further.