

I wish to urge the FCC not to permit so-called Broadband over Power Lines (BPL). It is technically infeasible, under the several schemes presently proposed for BPL, to prevent intolerable interference to other users of the spectrum below 60 MHz. These users include the military services, AM radio broadcasters, CB radio operators, and amateur radio services.