

I support, in the strongest possible terms, the filings of the Potomac Valley Radio Club and the American Radio Relay League in regard to the use of broadband over power lines. The amount of radio frequency interference which this activity would generate would very likely make it impossible for me to operate as an amateur radio operator on the allotted portions of the high frequency spectrum. Please do NOT allow anyone to use what is essentially a RF-leaky antenna system, albeit supposedly a 'closed system', to destroy the ability of nearly 500K amateur radio operators to perform vital public service and enjoyable recreational activities simply to provide a profit to the companies which so very recently brought the northeast to a near standstill because of their unwillingness to keep their system in good operating condition.
