

Allowing broad-band data transmission via power lines (BPL) will cause harmful and widespread interference to radio communications. BPL must not be allowed to exist in its present form.