

I feel the broadband internet will cause a lot of problems for various services including amateur radio with a lot of interference. At present even some of the transformers and other devices can cause interference from the power lines. I seriously recommend you deny power line internet.