

We really don't need any additional noise on the hf bands. The power companies may tell you that it will not interfere, but really they have much to gain, and will tell you folks anything to get their way.