

Broadband over power lines has caused (in experiments) and will cause interference to HF due to the fact that the lines are unshielded. It could possibly work if there was some way to shield the power lines to keep them from radiating.