

Due to the forceen problems with inteferance of military and other radio operations , I don't believe the time is right to let power companys to use theier lines as broadband for computers.

Sincerly Clarence Musolf