

In regards to the issue of DTV and CBS: I believe that the FCC a public organization, should not, under any circumstances, allow CBS to give the FCC ultimatiums. I believe that the FCC's DTV policy is to benefit the public and the greater good. If CBS doesn't wish to switch to DTV then eventually the FCC should revoke CBS's broadcast license.

On the issue of "broadcast flags." I believe that this will take away consumers "fair rights." And if the MPAA continues to try to promote this type of consumer hate war it should be disbanded.

Thank you for your time,

Jason Laprade