

BPL should not be allowed as it will greatly increase spectrum pollution, especially in areas that are relatively clean at present. Second, the technology will be out of date as wireless internet alternatives are rapidly becoming available with considerably less harm to the spectral environment. We do not need additional man made noise,