

From what I've read and heard, BPL will wipe out all HF radio communications. I urge you to remember that Amateur Radio is the emergency communications system that works when all else fails, as evidenced during many recent natural and man-made disasters. The HF band is used by many licensed services, to whom you have an obligation: Amateur, Government, Military, broadcasters, etc.

An unshielded transmission line carrying RF is called an antenna!