

I think that to institute BPL after the data showing that it does cause interference is available, is criminal on your part. Interference to the HF bands is unexcusable, and I can't help to wonder why you think your way will be better than any other.