

I strongly oppose Broadband over Power Lines (BPL) due to the very real probability that it will interfere with services that have been using the radio spectrum for many years. It has been demonstrated that it will cause harmful interference and should not be employed anywhere. Japan has chosen to outlaw it for the same reasons. We need to do the same thing. I cannot believe that certain FCC officials are so blind to the obvious.