

I am a very dedicated Amateur Radio Operator and I am very opposed to BPL. I am only a technician license but I'm currently in the process of upgrading to a general because I love HF. I hope the FCC has enough foresight to not let anything interfere with the HF bands of Amateur Radio. As you know in the event of emergencies, Amateur Radio is the only effective means of communication, and I hope you take that into consideration also before you pass BPL.