

With all of the technical reports and tests indicating that severe interference with a variety of radio service WILL occur if BPL is allowed to go forth, why would the FCC take any chance that would risk radio service.