

I wish to express my opposition to BPL. Based on results from other countries, it would appear that this will interfere with shortwave broadcasting and ham radio operation. I live in a urban area and the likely hood of interference is very real. There are already several efficient ways of obtaining broadband service here and so there is no actual need for BPL, hence its implementation will have more negative impact than positive. Thank you