

I find nothing in the documentation which I have been able to read that would substantiate the claim that there would be little or no interference from BPL. I have seen information that confirms there has been, and will be, degraded hf communications in the areas served by BPL. For most of the population, there are already two readily available options for broadband. To create another broadband option which is questionable at least to other regulated services seems to be like bombing IRAQ because of weapons of mass distruction. The weapons just were not there. There is just no need other than financial for BPL!
