

I support broadband over electrical power lines. This would enable communities with no access to broadband over cable and/or expensive broadband via satellite to have access. Also, broadband over electrical power lines would provide badly needed competition for existing broadband providers which have virtual monopolies in numerous communities. Some modifications may need to be made to the technology to minimize and hopefully eliminate any interference.

Thank you.