

I recently heard about this developing technology over the radio. I surely hope that this technogy comes about because i moved to a rural area in which i can no longer recieve cable or DSL broadband access and the options available to me now require a LARGE investment of equipment that broadband is no longer an option.