

Just what we need. More noise in a very important part of the broadcast spectrum. When are you going to realize the importance of Amateur Radio? When we have another emergency like 9/11? What will you be saying when Amateurs can't communicate because of noise over power lines due to BPL? Broadband over power lines is not a good idea. Besides, shouldn't the power company have as its primary business objective "to provide electricity for consumers"?