

The implementation of BPL makes the part of the radio spectrum affected, unusable for anything. I have been an Amateur Radio operator since the early fifties and it has been always the case that if I interfered with other services, I could be fined and lose my license. Doesn't that apply to those who interfere with me? Lets be realistic. Isn't thit all about money?