

While the BPL in theory is a great idea it should be remembered that potential interference to business, government and other radio services far outweigh its benefits. One has to question why this would be even considered as it has been banned in other countries.

With this in mind and supporting facts about potential interference from BPL to other services and interference to BPL from those services I hope the commission will insure that interference to those services will be rectified and that the power companies will be responsible for insuring that said interference will be dealt with immediately.
