

I wish to add my voice in opposition to BPL. At this stage it appears to be very poor technology that leaks RF energy like a sieve. The potential for damage to HF and MF radiocommunications far outweighs any commercial advantage found in the hasty introduction of this technology. Put simply, powerlines were not designed for this sort of emission. At this stage petitioners should be denied and further development halted.

Richard H. Weil, Ph.D.

FCC licenses: KW0U, GROL, GMDSS/O/M, and R/T 2nd