

I am against the BPL proposal. It appears to me they (The Broadband Companies) keep changing their story. If they could stick to their honest facts about BPL, I would not be objective. They know they have a problem with interference with many public communication systems. It is too bad the "almighty dollar" can sway truth and responsibility.