

I think that BPL will do a large injustice to all the Ham Radio operators in the US. Interference is a fact that will come with it. The public ham radio operator or not will feel it since emergency communications will again be needed. To ignore the interference that will accompany it's institution will harm both the necessary emergency use and it's use for pleasure found by most hams. Please reconsider this. Thank you
Harry Antenucci W2KFQ