

Dear FCC,

I thought that I lived in a country where Freedom of Speech was legal. I think that it is just plain stupid that you continue to fine Howard Stern simply because he represents a portion of the population that thinks differently than yourselves.

He has been exercising his Freedom of Speech for more than 20 years. If so many parents have a problem with their children listening to his show then they should be monitoring what their children are doing.

I can't wait until the November election to vote for John Kerry and see all of you replaced with more open minded and intelligent individuals.

Sarah O'Rourke