

Please do NOT go forward with plans to allow broadband data transmission over power lines. They were not designed for this purpose, and to use the power lines in this way will wreak havoc on the medium wave and short wave radio spectrum. Clearly, it isn't necessary to cause such harm - shielded cable is designed for this purpose. Support for broadband communications is a worthy goal, but please don't use an implementation so unsuited to the task. Thank you.