

Being located in a small town with only very limited access to broadband, I am supportive of having more choices for receiving broadband access. Properly regulated BPL can provide a much needed opportunity to provide broadband to remote locations.