

We do not believe BPL to be a viable technology to pursue, Additional noise levels to existing users will become a problem in the extreme. all of the miles of powerlines will radiate signal in every direction increasing an already high noise floor.

It should come as a no brainer that this will not work well.

Sincerely

Kent Andersen