

I'm concerned about RFI to Air Traffic Control. Recommend you coordinate with FAA. 1986-1990 there was at least one instance of Air Traffic Control Disruption (VHF) in Southern California due to power substations setting up make shift communication on power lines. The Air Force Spectrum Management Office at Edwards AFB, CA may have historical analysis on the problem.